INTRODUCTION

The phenomenon of sexual boundary violations, particularly abuse, as committed by persons in fiduciary relationships is widespread among helping professions. This bibliography is oriented to several specific contexts in which this occurs. The first consists of religious communities, particularly Christian churches, and particularly in the U.S.A. This is the setting of incidents that I best know and understand. The term religious communities is used broadly to also include practices that are spiritual in nature and not part of a formal religious denomination. The second context is the role of clergy, a religious vocation and culture to which I belong. While the bibliography focuses on the position and role of clergy, the concept of sexual boundary violation by one in a religious role is applied here to include other positions that also involve fiduciary trust and power derived from a sanctioning religious or spiritual community, e.g., a missionary, youth worker, woman religious, or guru. The intent is to be as comprehensive as possible about sexual boundary violations in religious communities.

Description

Purpose This bibliography is intended to be a systematic, or enumerative, subject bibliography. Any bibliography is a secondary resource that provides a place from which exploration starts. Hopefully, this one also serves as a source of knowledge and functions as a catalyst to analysis that results in action.

Scope The scope is extensive, as opposed to selective, and broad, e.g., not limited to the works of one nation and not to exclusively academic sources.

Materials Because of the scope, the materials included are of mixed types. Both retrospective and current materials are used. Book reviews are excluded, with occasional exceptions. Newspaper articles are generally excluded due to difficulties of access, quantity, and uncertainty of accuracy or detail.

Function The primary functions of this bibliography are to identify materials and sources, and to further the selection process for diverse types of readers with differing needs.

Arrangement Materials are arranged primarily by type and then alphabetically by author. In most all instances, author descriptions and affiliations refer to status at the time of publication.

Annotation Annotated entries are descriptive and intended to summarize the contents of the work in relation to the focus of this bibliography. Occasional evaluative commentary is made. Identification and annotation is based on verification by direct examination, with exceptions noted.

Format The format style is guided generally by the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition). However, to enhance the ability of readers of this bibliography to locate materials, the format exceeds Manual specifications regarding details of authors' full names, issue number and month of journals, and the like. The format is subject to revision to improve consistency and clarity while providing useful information.

Language Most titles listed are English language. This is not meant to devalue works in other languages. Language is a factor that affects availability, and non-English sources are less frequently accessible in the U.S.A.

Access to Materials A large number of books and articles were obtained through interlibrary loan services through both U.S. public and academic libraries. Increasingly, articles published in academic journals and law review literature that are peer-reviewed are available in PDF format through academic databases. By contrast, it is far more difficult to obtain articles in the religious literature in PDF format, including ones from peer-reviewed journals. Personal visits to the following libraries and entities were especially useful in compiling this bibliography, either because of the quantity of relevant materials and/or the availability of hard-to-locate items:

This Revision This bibliography is a work in progress. New entries and corrections are posted semi-annually, and the Academic Databases and Organizations and World Wide Web Sites sections in this Introduction are updated annually. This revision adds 93 new entries; the bibliography, excluding this Introduction, now consists of 1,340+ pages. That this project is ongoing demonstrates that the literature reflects a continuing international process of discovery and understanding, much of which has come through confrontation and conflict.

Searching this Bibliography Display of this bibliography on the World Wide Web allows for both a continuing process of adding entries and wide accessibility. These benefits come at the expense of offering a standard bibliographic system of numbered entries and indices, which would be subject to ongoing revision. In the absence of a subject or name index at this time, the Web user may trace a key word or phrase within the PDF display format through the standard computer system find or search options.

Availability This bibliography is intentionally made accessible to the widest number of people and at the lowest cost by its availability on the World Wide Web. From 2001-2007, AdvocateWeb, a non-profit organization, posted the bibliography. Since 2008, availability is provided by FaithTrust Institute, a non-profit organization that serves an international community and performs an exceptional service for those who care about the topic sexual boundary violations in religious communities. Donations for the purpose of supporting people's access to this bibliography may be directed to FaithTrust Institute. Suggestions of articles, chapters, books, or materials for inclusion may be directed to the author. People's willingness to send a copy of material is very helpful. PDFs by email attachment are especially welcome.

Disclosure The author has consulted for FaithTrust Institute since 2007, has contributed financially to its operating budget, was a member of the editorial board of its peer-reviewed publication, Journal of Religion and Abuse, and has published articles and book reviews in the Journal beginning with its first issue. All editorial decisions about inclusion or exclusion of bibliography entries and the wording of annotations are made independently, and are the author's sole responsibility.

Limitations A bibliography is a humbling exercise in perseverance. Previously unknown items are still being discovered, and new items are being published, resulting in still important materials to retrieve and include in a later edition. A bibliography is also a humbling exercise in detail. There are still formatting revisions to make, typos to correct, and updates to enter for currently listed items.

Sources The foundation for this bibliography was begun in 1995 with a systematic compilation of cited works and footnotes in books and journal articles. Since then, the types of sources that have been especially useful include journals, academic databases, organizations, and World Wide Web sites.

1. Journals

The following journals have been consistently productive sources:

Church Law & Tax Report: A Review of Legal and Tax Developments Affecting Ministers and Churches

Presents a national overview of U.S.A. legal developments pertaining to denominations and congregations on issues involving risk management, safety, finance, and taxes. Since the late 1980s, it has published numerous accounts of legal cases involving sexual boundary violations in religious communities. Format includes brief summaries and detailed critiques. Published bimonthly by Christianity Today International, 465 Gunderson Drive, Carol Stream, Illinois 60188. <http://www.churchlawandtax.com/> As of 02/04/14.

Journal of Religion and Abuse: Advocacy, Pastoral Care, and Prevention

First volume appeared spring, 1999; ceased publication in 2008; international and interreligious in scope. Editor was Marie M. Fortune. Published by Haworth Pastoral Press, 10 Alice Street, Binghamton, NY, 13904-1580. As of 02/01/14.

National Catholic Reporter

As described on its World Wide Web site: "Established in 1964, the National Catholic Reporter (NCR) began as a newspaper and is now a print and web news source that stands as one of the few independent, journalistic outlets for Catholics and others who struggle with the complex moral and societal issues of the day." Has published numerous articles over the decades regarding sexual boundary violations in the Roman Catholic Church. The National Catholic Reporter Publishing Co., 115 E. Armour Blvd., Kansas City, MO 64111. <http://ncronline.org/> As of 02/01/14.

Origins: CNS (Catholic News Service) Documentary Service

Publishes numerous official documents, statements, reports, and the like issued by bodies and individuals in the Roman Catholic Church. Excellent single source for a large number of important texts related to clergy sexual abuse. Annual index. Published weekly most months of the year. Publisher is affiliated with U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops. Published by Catholic News Service, 3211 4th St. N.E., Washington, D.C. 20017. Also available as an on-line subscription. As of 02/01/14.

2. Academic Databases

This bibliography's breadth and depth is increased by utilization of standard academic digital databases, especially those available through colleges, universities, health sciences institutions, and public libraries. Because of variations in how authors identify subjects and how academic catalogues list key words, and because of variations in how academic database searches are constructed, the following search phrases and terms are used:

"clergy sexual abuse"	"clergy sexual misconduct"	"sexual harassment by clergy"
"clergy sexual harassment"	"sexual abuse by clergy"	"sexual misconduct by clergy"
"clergy" + "abuse"	"clergy" + "discipline"	"clergy" + "malpractice"
"clergy" + "adultery"	"clergy" + "ethics"	"clergy" + "misconduct"
"clergy" + "affairs"	"clergy" + "harassment"	"clergy" + "sex crimes"

In addition, the terms "minister," "priest," and "rabbi" are substituted for "clergy" as a search term.

For searches that allow refining the returns, the following broad terms are initially used:

"sex crimes"	"sexual ethics"	"sexual misconduct"
"sexual abuse"	"sexual harassment"

A. W. Richard Sipe – Celibacy, Sex & Catholic Church

<http://www.awrsipe.com>

"This website is the result of years of research and provides an opportunity for serious discussion of problems highlighted by sexual abuse and betrayal of minors at the hands of trusted clergy. It is frequently updated with information, commentary and an invitation to dialogue about human sexuality and the Roman Catholic Church.” Sipe, a certified mental health counselor, previously was a Benedictine monk and priest in the Roman Catholic Church, and “is devoted full time to research into the sexual and celibate practices of Roman Catholic bishops and priests. That path now leads him to the study of the sexual teaching of the church and its effects on behavior – especially sexual abuse of minors by clergy – and the tangle of sexual problems that some people claim are blocking every religious agenda and destroying beyond repair the credibility of the Catholic Church in sexual matters.” Contains extensive resources on numerous topics related to sexual abuse. Also contains a dedicated section on the work Thomas P. Doyle that contains numerous documents. As of 12/05/14.

Child Protection Project

<http://www.childpro.org/>

World Wide Web site of the organization. "Child Protection Project is dedicated to raising awareness about institutionalized child abuse and to assisting the victims of this pattern of abuse. Currently, the most egregious offenses against human rights in America are embodied in the institutional forms of child abuse carried out by religious separatist groups whose teachings are informed by those of the early Mormon church. The violence and violations of these largely polygamist groups shape the lives of approximately 1000,000 individuals in the American west." A major focus is the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. The Archive section of the site contains copies of documents from legal cases and an alternative newspaper investigative report. The LDS Cases section contains brief summaries of lawsuits and other legal cases. Linda Walker, founder. Flora Jessop, Executive Director. Last updated 2009. As of 08/06/14.

<http://www.survivorsforjustice.org/>

email: info@sfjny.org

“SFJ is an advocacy, educational and support organization for survivors of sexual abuse and their families from the Orthodox [Jewish] world... Working closely with qualified mental health, law enforcement, legal and media professionals, we respond to the needs of individual victims and then help them formulate and pursue a plan of action (whether it’s finding a therapist, filing a report with the police, responding effectively to threats and intimidation, filing a civil suit, speaking to the media, etc.)... We offer survivor support groups, as well as support groups for parents... We believe that the often paralyzing fear – of being accused of being a moser, of not getting a ‘good shidduch’, of social ostracism – that prevents many victims from reporting can only be overcome when the victims know they can rely on the social support of others.” Sections of the World Wide Web site are devoted to: cases; legal and halachic resources related to sexual abuse in the Orthodox community; articles from Jewish and secular media, both in the U.S.A. and international; audio and visual resources; resources for parents.
